PREFACE

This study was prepared for the Town of Westford and is intended to investigate senior center needs, design a program to fit the current and future needs of the Senior Center, to evaluate the condition of the existing building, develop expansion alternatives, and define a preferred solution to the building project before final design begins.

The study culminates in a final program and schematic design which defines the preferred solution in terms of its content and cost in order to provide a clear and detailed frame of reference for the design and implementation process.
